

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and a much brighter 2022!

What a year it's been. As a charity we've continued to support young people through the precarity of lockdowns, openings and the turbulence of all the in-betweens. We've had the privilege of meeting lots of great new TYMF applicants who, with thanks to your support, we've been able to provide mentoring sessions and financial awards.

We made some great advances in the last year as a charity and we're working hard to keep growing in the New Year. As always, if you know of a brilliant young person who would benefit from some help please get in touch or direct them to our

A word from Khava, one of our 2021 awardees:

"My financial stress has been eased an incredible amount through your funding. The laptop you have funded will mean I'm now able to easily write my essays from a personal device, debate historical arguments, access critical material and most importantly, perform in my degree to the best of my ability. I can also continue to write in my spare time and hone my skills of critical analysis and creative writing, as well! It means a great deal to not be held back by circumstance and to have received this kind of support in reaching my goals."

I think the work your foundation is doing provides such caring and crucial support and I cannot thank you enough for the work you've done for me and as I'm sure, many others. The impact of this support is felt so deeply and saves so many from unnecessary emotional stress so they can focus on pursuing the work and projects that truly invigorate them! "

Make us your charity of the year for 2022!

This year was an especially tough year for charities and everyone else but we're excited to move into a hopefully much brighter new year. Every donation makes an incredible difference to a young person who we support, if 100 of our supporters raised £100 each during 2022 that would give us £10,000 to support at least 10 amazing young people like Sarah and Khava. If you've decided to do a dry January, why not donate the weekly cost of your drinks tab (or get your friends to sponsor you)?

All of your donations go directly towards funding young people - all other costs are funded privately.

We'll be hitting the roads again on the 11th of June 2022 to join the London Nightrider as part of our efforts to raise funds for the incredible young people we support. If you would like to join us, please get in touch. If you can support us, you can donate to the campaign below.

100% of our donations go directly towards funding the aspirations of the young people who successfully apply for our help. We do not use any donated funds to support our administration costs which are covered privately.
